

Kentucky River Lock & Dam #4 Franklin County, Kentucky

The original lock and Dam #4 on the Kentucky River was built between the years 1836 to 1842 and was then rebuilt in 1882 by the Corp of Engineers. The Lock & Dam have since been repaired several time and are still currently operational to leisure boat traffic, though the locks were used until 2002 as a form of transportation of goods by barge.

Map compiled by NHockensmith03, Spring 2025 for the University of Kentucky, Department of Geography, GEO 409. Data from KyFromAbove.ky.gov

